

Not knowing PowerPoint is costing your business money.

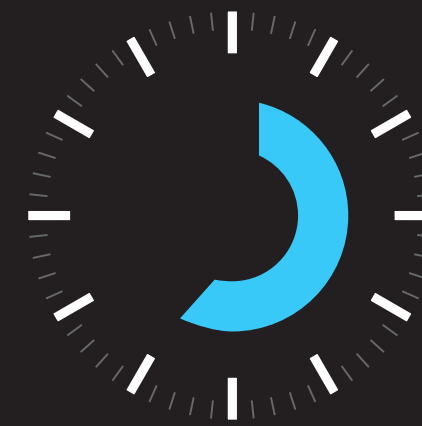

8 facts to help you mitigate loss, empower your teams and get the most out of PowerPoint.

PowerPoint

is the world's most ubiquitous office communications software, with over a billion installs.

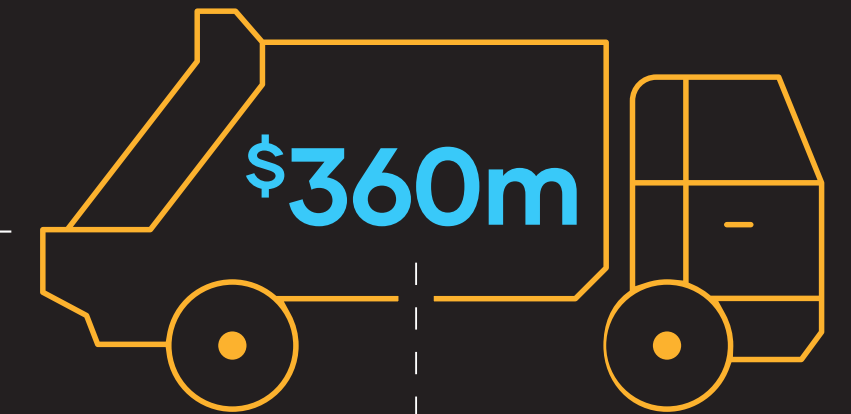

Like it or not, it's how businesses communicate. Not using it correctly is like having faulty two-way radios on a building site.

GfK found that

63%

of office employees use PowerPoint, for an average of 18 HRS/MNTH

wasted daily

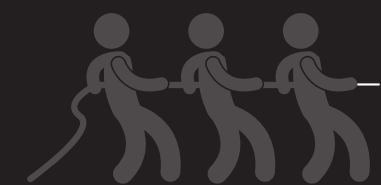

Ian Parker from THE NEW YORKER

measured time wasted by staff; producing, delivering and attending poorly planned and executed presentations as a measurable detriment to businesses.

Less than 20%

of employees surveyed believe they're using PowerPoint to its full potential.

Companies that train together, gain together.

On-the-job training improves communication, productivity & morale. To name just a few of the benefits.

Forbes

found that over 70% of employees view training as necessary for their career.

Not all training is the same.

12%

A 24x7 Learning report revealed only 12% of employees implement what they "learn" through workplace training.
